

Make Way for the Tidal Basin

There are 2 possibilities of where the ducks might walk to. One is the White House Pool which is right across the street. However, the Tidal Basin would probably make a much better home.

To Get To The Tidal Basin.....

1. Leave the treasury department and head down Pennsylvania Avenue which will merge with 15th Street.
2. When you get to Constitution Avenue, turn right and keep walking until you get to 17th street.
3. Turn left at 17th street and head straight down the street until you get to the Tidal basin.

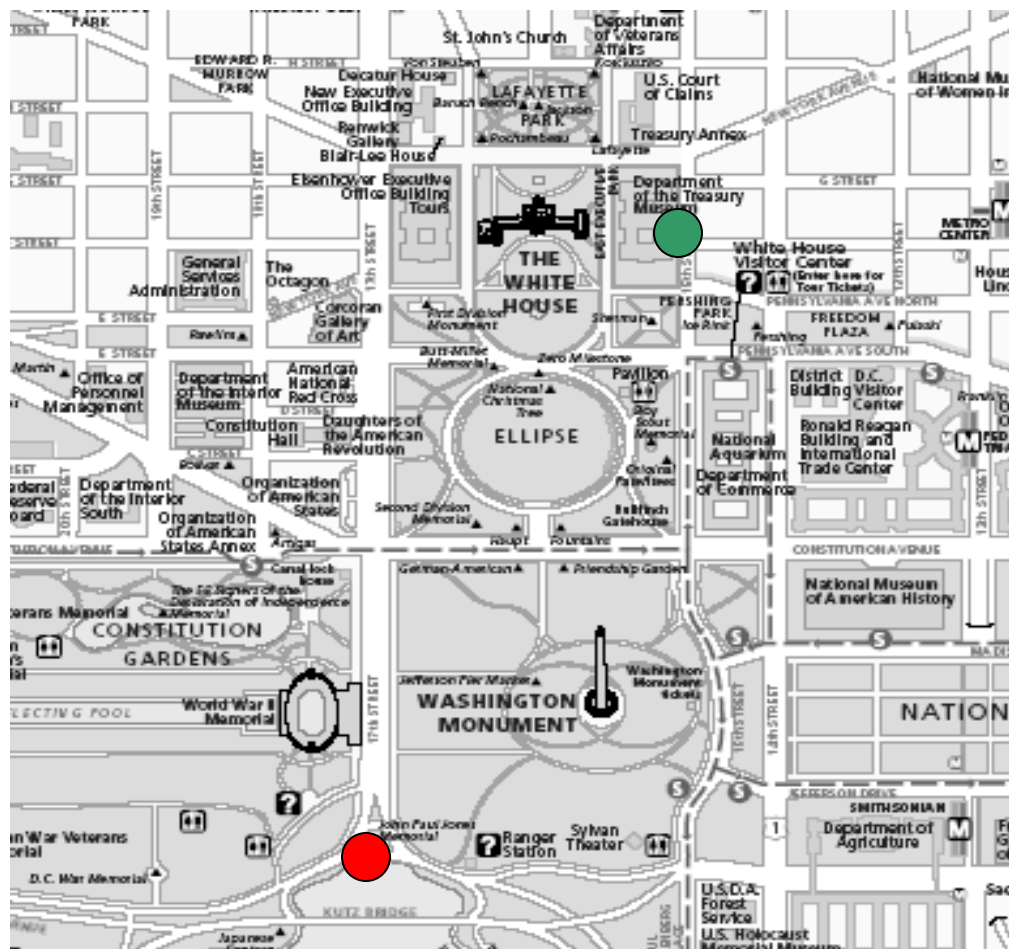

Things they might see on their walk.....

- The White House
- The Washington Monument
- The Ellipse
- The Department of Commerce
- The World War II Memorial
- John Paul Jones Memorial
- Franklin Delano Roosevelt Memorial

They will need to swim under the Kutz Bridge

Things they will see on the Tidal Basin.....

- Franklin Delano Roosevelt Memorial
- Thomas Jefferson Memorial
- Japanese Pagoda
- George Mason Memorial

The ducklings will begin at the Green Dot (Treasury Department) and will need to make their way down to the Red Dot (the Tidal Basin).

Can you trace a route that they might take to get to the Tidal Basin?
